WELCOME

WELCOME TO THE DEN FOR ANOTHER HUGE DAY IN THE STORY OF LONDON CITY LIONESSES.

Last weekend was a landmark moment for our club.

For the first time in our history, we sold out the CopperJax Community Stadium for our match against Arsenal – a moment that will live long in the memory. Seeing every seat filled, hearing the noise around the ground and feeling the energy from the stands was something truly special.

To every supporter who came out to back the team – thank you. Your support means the world to everyone connected with this club. Together, you helped create an atmosphere worthy of the occasion and another milestone in the journey we are building.

Today marks another new chapter.

For the first time, London City Lionesses take to the pitch here at The Den. We hope you enjoy the day, soak up the occasion and make the most of everything happening around the ground. As always, you can find everything you need to know about the matchday experience on page 5.

Last week was also special for reasons beyond the result.

It was a milestone moment for Daniëlle van de Donk, who made her 100th appearance in the Women's Super League – a fantastic achievement for one of the most respected players in the game. We also saw Delphine Cascarino make her debut for the club following her arrival in January, adding another world-class talent to this exciting London City side.

Now our focus turns to another huge challenge.

Today we face the reigning Women's Super League champions, Chelsea, in a London derby that promises quality, intensity and some of the biggest names in the game. Fixtures like this are what women's football is all about – big players, big moments and a big stage.

And with your support behind us once again, it promises to be another unforgettable occasion.

Enjoy the day, make some noise, and be part of it.

A WORD FROM SARAH BATTERS MANAGING DIRECTOR

LAST WEEKEND WAS A MOMENT I WILL REMEMBER FOR A VERY LONG TIME.

Seeing the CopperJax Community Stadium sold out for the first time was something incredibly special. To look around and see every seat filled, families, young supporters and long-time fans all coming together to back this team was a powerful reminder of what this club is becoming. To every supporter who joined us: THANK YOU!

When I arrived at London City Lionesses, I truly believed this club had the potential to grow into something special. What we have seen over the past year, the rising attendances, the growing community around the club and the momentum building both on and off the pitch, shows that this belief is becoming a reality.

That growth is something I saw first-hand again last week during a school visit. One of the things that really stayed with me was a group of boys asking whether they could play for London City one day! Even more striking was that many of the children already knew the names of our players and were excited to talk about them. Moments like that show how much the women's game is inspiring the next generation and how perceptions are continuing to change.

We want that inspiration to lead somewhere. we have launched Talent ID sessions for young players who want the opportunity to play for London City in the future. If you have a child who dreams of playing the game, please visit the academy page of our website for more information.

We are building something here. Something ambitious, exciting and full of possibility. And it is a journey that everyone connected with the club can be part of. This is a ride you want to get on board with, because London City Lionesses are going places.

Last weekend was also special for me personally. I was watching the game with my family, and my children have completely fallen in love with the club. They have their favourite players, their matchday routines and their own excitement every time we arrive at the stadium. At the moment, I am told Freya Godfrey is firmly top of the list!

Standing there together during the Arsenal game, surrounded by a packed stadium and an incredible atmosphere, I genuinely struggled to think of a prouder moment since joining the club. Proud of the players on the pitch, proud of the staff behind the scenes who work tirelessly to make days like that possible, and most of all proud of the supporters who are bringing this club to life.

Today we take another exciting step forward as we play here at The Den for the very first time. It is a fantastic venue, and a brilliant stage for another huge London derby.

With your continued support, we can make today another special occasion.

Thank you for being part of this journey. And enjoy the game.

SARAH

SURREY COUNTY CUP SUCCESS FOR LONDON CITY LIONESSES U16s!

Our U16s were crowned Surrey County Cup champions after a fantastic 2-1 victory over Inspire Girls Football Academy.

The triumph marks a historic moment for the group, securing the team's first trophy and rewarding the hard work they have put in throughout the season.

In a final full of emotion, the players showed great maturity to stay composed and focused on the task at hand. The first half reflected much of what the team has been developing this year, with strong pressing, winning the ball high up the pitch and accelerating quickly on the counter-attack. That approach paid off with two excellent goals.

The second half presented a different challenge. Inspire pushed forward and the team had to dig deep defensively, showing resilience, discipline and balance to protect their lead.

When the final whistle sounded, it sparked well-deserved celebrations among the players and staff, marking a special moment for everyone involved.

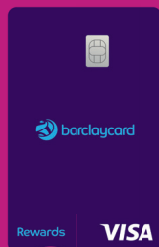

The players deserve huge credit for their effort, commitment and teamwork throughout the competition. As academy staff, we are incredibly proud to support them on their football journey and grateful to play a part in their development both on and off the pitch.

HEAD COACH: SONIA BOMPASTOR

Sonia Bompastor, 44, was born in Blois, France. A former France international midfielder, she won the UEFA Women's Champions League twice as a player with Lyon. After retiring, she became head coach of Lyon and led the club to multiple major honours including the UEFA Women's Champions League and the French Division 1 Féminine title. Bompastor was appointed Chelsea head coach in 2024, succeeding Emma Hayes, after establishing herself as one of the most successful coaches in European women's football.

SEVEN IN SPOTLIGHT

GOALKEEPER HANNAH HAMPTON

24

England international Hannah Hampton, 24, was born in Birmingham, England. She began her senior career with Birmingham City before joining Aston Villa in 2021. Hampton signed for Chelsea in July 2023 and has since become a regular part of the squad. At club level she has won the Barclays Women's Super League twice with Chelsea and added domestic cup honours during her time in west London. Internationally, Hampton made her England debut in 2022 and was part of the Lionesses squad that won both Euro 2022 and 2025.

DEFENDER LUCY BRONZE

Lucy Bronze, 34, was born in Berwick-upon-Tweed, England. One of the most decorated defenders in the women's game, she joined Chelsea in 2024 after spells with Sunderland, Everton, Liverpool, Manchester City, Lyon and Barcelona. Bronze has won three UEFA Women's Champions League titles with our sister club, Lyon, and twice with Barcelona as well as league titles in England, France and Spain. Internationally, she has earned over 140 caps for England and was part of the squads that won the UEFA Women's Euro in 2022 and 2025.

MIDFIELDER ERIN CUTHBERT

Scotland international Erin Cuthbert, 27, was born in Irvine, Scotland. She joined Chelsea in 2016 from Glasgow City and has become one of the club's longest-serving players. During her time in London, she has won eight Barclays Women's Super League titles, plus numerous FA Cups and League Cups with the club.

MIDFIELDER KEIRA WALSH

30

England international Keira Walsh, 28, was born in Rochdale, England. She began her career with Blackburn Rovers before joining Manchester City in 2014, where she won the Women's Super League, FA Cup and League Cup. Walsh moved to Barcelona in 2022 and won both the Liga F title (3x) and the UEFA Women's Champions League (2x) before signing for Chelsea. Internationally, she was a key member of the England team that won the UEFA Women's Euro in 2022 and 2025, and reached the final of the 2023 FIFA Women's World Cup.

FORWARD LAUREN JAMES

England international Lauren James, 24, was born in London, England. She came through the Arsenal academy before beginning her senior career at Manchester United, helping them to promotion in 2018/19 after scoring 14 goals in 9 games in the league. James joined Chelsea in 2021 and has since won four Barclays Women's Super League titles with the club. She made her England debut in 2022 and represented the Lionesses in Euro 2025, which they were crowned champions.

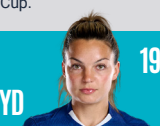

FORWARD ALYSSA THOMPSON

United States international Alyssa Thompson, 20, was born in Los Angeles, California. She became one of the most highly rated young forwards in American football after starting at youth level for the United States and making her senior international debut in 2022. Thompson began her professional career in the United States at Angel City, before joining Chelsea, becoming one of the youngest players in the squad. She has impressed so far in west London, netting six times in 14 league games, and picked up her first honour in blue last weekend as Chelsea won the Subway Women's League Cup.

FORWARD JOHANNA RYTTING KANERYD

Sweden international Johanna Rytting Kaneryd, 29, was born in Köping, Sweden. She began her senior career in Sweden with Tyresö before playing for clubs including Djurgårdens, Rosengård and BK Häcken. Kaneryd joined Chelsea in 2022 and has since won multiple Barclays Women's Super League titles with the club. Internationally she has represented Sweden at major tournaments including the UEFA Women's Euro and the FIFA Women's World Cup.

LAST TIME OUT

GOALS IN EITHER HALF FROM OLIVIA SMITH AND STINA BLACKSTENIUS PROVED THE DIFFERENCE IN BROMLEY.

Daniëlle van de Donk captained the club for the first time on her 100th Women's Super League appearance, Malou Marcetto made her first start while Delphine Cascarino came off the bench for her debut after recovering from an injury sustained following her January arrival.

Eder Maestre Quotes:

"WE ARE DISAPPOINTED WITH THE RESULT. WE KEPT PUSHING UNTIL THE END BUT IT WAS NOT ENOUGH."

"I THINK WE ARE MOVING FORWARD AND LEARNING. WE ARE FACING THE BEST TEAMS WHO ARE VERY EXPERIENCED TEAMS."

"THE FANS WERE FANTASTIC TODAY AND IT WAS AMAZING TO SEE SO MANY SUPPORTERS AT OUR STADIUM."

NIXI BODY

NIXI Body offers game-changing, leakproof underwear created with exercise in mind.

We're on a mission to keep women moving through menstruation, motherhood and menopause, and give you total confidence on and off the pitch.

Our VPL-free leakproof underwear are totally invisible under activewear and are made to move with you – no chaffing, no rubbing, no leaks - no worries.

With NIXI, leaks won't pause your play.

Created with sport in mind – our origin story is deeply rooted in a desire to keep women of all ages active. The knickers have been specially designed to be more under activewear - no VPL and no chaffing.

How do they work? The technology in the special gusset is simple yet effective - the four moisture-wicking layers lock all fluids in so they are drawn away from the skin (keeping you dry) and don't leak onto your clothes.

AFTA Studios is a female-founded/led creative studio and licensed retail brand in women's sport. AFTA tells stories, illustrates women's sport, and helps shape its future. AFTA began with a shared passion for women's football and a desire to tell its stories differently.

Blending creativity, storytelling, and culture, AFTA creates authentic content and licensed merchandise rooted in the real movement of women's sport. Bringing together art, community, and merchandise, AFTA celebrates the players, fans, and culture shaping women's sport.

LITTLE BAG

The idea for FabLittleBag® came from a simple but common problem: the lack of discreet and hygienic ways to dispose of tampons and sanitary pads. The impact that this and managing periods has on female participation in grassroots sports was a motivator for change. Rather than accepting it as an unavoidable inconvenience, founder Martha Silcott, saw an opportunity to create a better solution.

That moment sparked the creation of FabLittleBag® a sealable, disposal bag designed to make menstrual product disposal more hygienic, discreet, and environmentally responsible. Her Coach's Bags ensure that periods are not a barrier to participation in sports.

Made using sugar cane and recycled materials, specifically designed for ease of use, FabLittleBag® reflects Martha's commitment to practical innovation that benefits both women and the planet. Her work is helping to reduce environmental impact of flushing period products, providing confident disposal experiences while also addressing the stigma that still surrounds menstrual health.
